“ To Julie and Randy, and family.

I'm also late in commenting. I just found out about Kentons death from my sister Kelsey (via Randy).

Ken was a good Navy buddy, and my friend for over 50-years. For a time - I was his room-mate while I was in college. My family loved to have him around when he lived in Southern California working for his Uncle Scott. Much later, I loved visiting Ken's home museum of old electronic devices. I still remember attending the USS Proteus reunion in San Diego with Ken and Julie. It seems just like yesterday.

I'm still shocked and upset. I knew something was wrong when he stopped emailing and answering his phone. Ken was a very special person - and was a wonderful friend. I will miss him.

“ I am late in commenting about losing our Ken. We spent many an hour together and I always enjoyed his stories. I am at a loss why I was not informed of his death. Just today, I came across a Christmas card he had sent to me, on the card was a photo of him and his brother as young children. When I saw his 15 year Apple award being sold on eBay, I knew something was terribly wrong.

A wonderful person has left this earth.

“ Kenton "Ken" Warwick was a great friend, hard worker, fun, shared great experiences, shared his many stories: his Military Service stories, Apple stories, Bay Area history, served his country, helped to ensure all Apple products he worked on were safe and reliable, loved music & festivals, documenting and sharing his family history, collector of many things, a kind man, and enjoyed laughing. Miss you Ken and our chats/text/emails/lunches. Rest in Peace and see you again in heaven.

To Julie, Randy, and Ken's extended family... I'm sorry for your loss and hope his smile, memories bring you strength during this difficult time. Please, please let me know when a celebration of life or memorial will be held to honor Kenton as he was loved by so many.

I've worked with Ken for the past 30+ years... missing him.
